Why Not Be Consistent?

When you spend quite a little money for some kinds of personal comforts, and get along without others of more importance, you are not acting consistently.

Why not invest in Eye Comfort—in a pair of FAIRCHILD Glasses—that is consistently of the first class.

At least, let the FAIRCHILD REGISTERED OPTOMETRIST tell you, after a thorough examination, whether you need Glasses or not.

Particular attention is given to selecting a mounting that will look right and feel right. In addition, the lenses are ground on the premises—all of which assures Glasses that will be thoroughly satisfactory.

The fitting of GLASS EYES is part of our Optical service.

"Farmer Orator" of New Jersey, Who Was Renominated For Senate

Senator MARTINE

The renomination of United States Senator Martin by New Jersey Democrats will be considered by some as a rebuke to the Washington administration for refusing to back the "farmer orator" in favor of Attorney General Wescott. The White House never made any public announcement of its wishes in the matter, but the Democratic leaders were anxious to please President Wilson, as he was particularly desirous of seeing Martin returned to the senate. Martin ran for United States senator in preferential primaries on Sept. 13, 1910. He received only 47,458 votes, but that was four times more than his opponent received. Nobody took the preferential choice idea seriously in those days, and Martin was put in the race by some Bob Davis Democrats in Hudson county because they thought it would be a good joke. Governor Wilson, however, insisted that as the people had voted for Martin it was up to the Democratic legislature to elect him. He stood resulted in Mr. Wilson's celebrated break with ex-United States Senator James Smith, then a state leader, who insisted that he, Smith, was entitled to the place. Wilson stood firm for Martin, the legislature elected him on Jan. 23, 1911, and Smith passed out of politics.

TEN YEARS SUFFERER FROM STOMACH TROUBLE

Mr. C. E. Gilbert, 38 Ridge-wood Place, This City, Tells Interesting Story About Lax-a-Tone.

Just because you are not incapacitated from your business or pleasure the warning from stomach trouble should not go unheeded, or serious results are bound to follow. These warnings take the form of dyspepsia, indigestion, dizziness, nervousness, constipation, headache, backache, that tired run down feeling and various other symptoms indicating a deranged stomach, which can be restored to its normal condition by Lax-a-Tone, the new Herbal system Tonic. Mr. Gilbert says:

MR. C. E. GILBERT

"For ten years I have suffered greatly with indigestion, constipation, in a very bad form, my food would distress me and would turn sour and ferment which would bloat me up and cause gas pains, physically I did not feel right up to the mark and was badly run down. Since taking Lax-a-Tone my stomach trouble and constipation has disappeared, I feel stronger and better in every way and I am glad to endorse this tonic to my friends."

Lax-a-Tone is for sale at Hartigan's drug stores, 81 Fairfield avenue, and Congress and Main streets.—Ad.

ANNIVERSARIES OF RING BATTLES

1905—Sam Langford and Young Peter Jackson fought 15-round draw at Baltimore. Young Peter was one of the first of Langford's boxing partners. Always too good to be much in demand with paleface fighters, Sam discovered early in the game that it would be necessary to provide himself with a meal ticket of his own color. Young Peter Jackson, a Baltimore negro whose real name was Slim Tompkins, and Jack Blackburn, a Philadelphia negro, were the first to be honored by them. The Sam-Young Peter series began in 1905, when they fought three times, Sam winning the first two and the third going to a draw. They fought twice in 1906, when each gained a victory, and in 1907 Sam defeated Young Peter in a 20-round contest in Los An-giles. Young Peter and Blackburn were Sam's regulars until the former quit the ring and Blackburn was sent to prison for careless use of firearms. Joe Jeanette then became Langford's steady, and they fought all over the map. Later Langford took on Sam McVey as his regular with Jim Johnson as a substitute, and Langford and McVey performed their famous brother act in all the important centers of pugilistic culture.
